Mustang II Will Debut At Lawson Ford Sept. 21 - 22

Mustang II, the most changed car in the auto industry this year will debut along with other new 1974 Ford cars and trucks at Lawson Ford, in Appomattox, on September 21st and 22nd.

The Mustang II is a small, sporty and luxurious car that Ford expects to be the forerunner of a new class of cars. It is 19 inches shorter than the 1973 Mustang and seven inches shorter than the original Mustang introduced in April of 1964.

"With the growth of the small car market, Mustang II seems to be coming at the right time," said Dick Bland, Vice President and General Manager of the dealership. "It brings to the booming small car market the luxurious touches and smooth ride of much larger, more expensive cars."

"Mustang IIis a car for the Seventies. The gas mileage of its base engine is especially timely in these days of gas shortages, and the small size and handling make it an especially maneuverable car," Mr. Bland added.

The complete line of new Fords will be on display at Lawson Ford on Friday and Saturday, September 21st and 22nd. Stop in and look them over and test drive the car or truck of your choice.

Slagle Represents Appomattox County At Public Hearing

In accordance with the Virginia Area Development Act the Central Virginia Planning District Commission conducted a public hearing on the proposed Regional Water Quality Management Plan on August 21st in Hopwood Hall, Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of this plan was to propose a means to maintain and upgrade surface water quality within Central Virginia Planning District with respect to water quality, water pollution, and water conservation in accordance with state and federal water quality objectives and regulations.

Bill Slagle, manager of the Town of Appomattox, made comments at the public hearing on behalf of the County of Appomattox, the Town of Appomattox and the Town of Pamplin.

The comments made by Slagle at the hearing were as follows: First-All Sectors within the "Town" cannot be gravity sewered; Population projection 500 persons (growth) 1975-200 totally unrealistic- but we understand that state projections must be used in this Water Quality Management Plan. Second - If the sewage system is developed as we have proposed and with which you basically concur - this can do much to encourage a planned growth pattern in and around the Town of Appomattox. This is highly desirable to help preclude growth patterns from developing which may prove very difficult and hard to serve with sewage. It should be pointed out that our proposed County Zoning Ordinance reflects this thinking. Third - All flows cannot be directed into the trickling filter plant without drastically overloading this plant unless we provide extensive modifications to this plant. It should be pointed out that the lagoon (Plant #2) was constructed in 1966 to provide relief to this plant. the Town has no plans to abandon the lagoon and to update and expand this mechanical plant since we are convinced that this is neither logical nor desirable and actually would compliciate our problems. Fourth - Report titled "A Comprehensive Water and Sewer Report Appomatox County, Virginia" as prepared by Hankins and Anderson, Consulting Engineers dated January 1972 more accurately reflects our anticipated growth pattern in the Historical Park area and provides more flexability in serving this area. Fifth - We concur with this but feel that this should be Item 1 (1975). The plant must be constructed first and all sewage generated in the service area defined in Map 14 (as amended by Paragraph 4 above) must be diverted into this sewage treatment plant as the service area develops. We are currently on the Water Control Board 1975 contingency list. We concur that the Pamplin sewage situation does pose some definite engineering and economic problems. Sixth - Obviously an interceptor line along Purdums Branch and Caldwells Creek which is necessary to convey the sewage generated in the existing service area to the new sewage treatment Plant would also provide the nucleus around which service can be extended to the east and west of this interceptor. Population projections tend to favor larger localities since this provides a built-in stimulus for growth while smaller communities can lie totally dormant by not being able to accomodate industrial, commercial and residential growth.

As noted in this report, the Town and County of Appomattox do not feel that 0.25 mgd facility is adequate for the study period involved. If the Virginia State Water Control Board adopts a policy of only funding facilities to solve existing problems with limited room for growth then a 0.25 mgd facility will be adequate. If this 0.25 mgd capacity holds then such plant must be designed in such a manner that it can be expanded in stages without disrupting the operation of the proposed 0.25 mgd plant.

Market Demand, New Farm Program Discussed At Meeting

The only way Americans can have moderate food prices and still allow our farmers to earn respectable incomes is to continue to seek sizeable farm exports. "This was the central message for State farm program officials at our Eastern Regional Conference in Providence, R.I. ON August 22 and 23", reports Mahlon K. Rudy, State Executive Director of the Virginia Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Reinforcing Rudy's assessment of the need for the current drive for increased production by U.S. farmers in 1974 were comments by top U.S. Department of Agriculture officials who discussed new farm program provisions and the world food demand situation with ASCS officials from 17 states.

Kenneth E. Frick, ASCS Administrator, told the conferees that "Market demand for American agricultural products is so heavy there is no chance of getting into a surplus situation this year or next. All-out production is needed smuply to meet the demand. This demand is real and it is long-term. And filling that demand is vital to the health of this nation in general and the agricultural sector in particular."

Rudy said the purpose of the meeting was to up-date State ASCS officials on policies and operating details of the recently-restructured USDA agency and to discuss the new farm bill - the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973. ASCS streamlined its organization in late June to improve its services to farmers. The new farm program bill was signed into law by President Nixon on August 10.

Attending the conference from Virginia, in addition to Chairman James S. Gillespie, were Delman R. Carr and Clarence L. Tardy, members of the State ASC Committee, and Mahlon K. Rudy, State ASCS Executive Director.

Rudy said the new law, which amends earlier legislation, is designed to assure ample supplies of food and fiber for our consumers here at home and fill export market opportunities. He said the new Act also provides price protection for farmers with its target price provision, should farmers' market prices fall below specified levels. And, he added, it provides farmers full freedom to produce for the market.

Rudy said Administrator Frick told the group that the American consumer is now part of a complex trade network that extends far beyond the supermarket or the grocery store and into the other nations around the Frick added that a major of the food picture is a growing food appetite around the and that not only is the growing by about 20 people a year, but the world's peoples are more affluent, causing ed demand for more and food.

Fees For Aug. Camping To Be Refunded By NPS

Ronald H. Walker, director of the National Park Service, today announced how those who visited areas of the National Park System in early August may obtain refunds for campsite fees and some daily entrance fees.

Walker said the funds are necessitated by Public Law 93-81, signed by President Nixon on Aug. 1. The new law provides that camping fees may not be charged at Federal campgrounds which do not have a full range of convenience facilities, including showers and sanitary dumping stations for recreational vehicles. In addition, entrance fees, which in the past have been charged on a daily basis, will now be charged on a "single visit" basis only.

Those entitled to refunds must apply for their refunds in writing, including some proof of the fees they paid. Walker said. Receipts or copies of receipts are preferred, but cancelled checks may also be used to substantiate claims for refunds. All claims should be addressed to the National Park Service, U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240, and marked Attention:Finance. All refund requests will be handled as promptly as possible, Walker promised.

Those who have paid for campsites through the campsite reservation system with American Express Reservations, Inc., will automatically have their refunds mailed to them. Requests for such refunds will not be necessary.

Persons who paid camping fees for the traditional first-come, first-served campsites found in most areas of the National Park System; or paid excess entrance fees (any entrance fee collected for any additional day following the first day of visit) may obtain refunds for such fees paid on or after Aug. 1. The National Park Service implemented the new law on Aug. 9 and visitors arriving after that date were charged only those fees which are permitted under the new law. Refunds will be made to all who can substantiate they were charged improper fees after the law's August 1 effective date.

The new legislation eliminates the campground use fee and restricts the daily fee to the date of actual entry into the park - a second entry fee may be charged only if the visitor leaves the park and returns after the first calendar day of his visit.

Walker pointed out that the new legislation could be expected to cost the National Park Service approximately $6 million this year in lost revenues. These revenues were to be used to help operate and develop the areas of the park system.

Corporation Estimated Tax Due, Says IRS

RICHMOND - Corporations who operate on a calendar year basis must make their third quarterly payment of their 1973 estimated tax by Sept. 17, 1973, James P. Boyle, District Director of Internal Revenue for Virginia said today.

Such payment should be deposited in authorized commercial banks or Federal Reserve banks, along with a Federal Tax Deposit Form 503.

The amount of the installment due by September 17, 1973 should be sufficient to pay three-fourths of the 1973 estimated tax, Mr. Boyle said.

For more information on corporation estimated tax payments, write your IRS district office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 542, "Corporations and the Federal Income Tax."

The following article was printed in a monthly newsletter to supervisors and workers and sent out from Transco from the company president, G. M. Mitchell. Thought we would pass along the thought.

If I Were A Boss

If I were a boss I would like to say:
"You did a good job here yesterday."
I'd look for a man, or a girl, or a boy,
Whose heart would leap with a thrill of joy
At a word of praise, and I'd pass it out
Where the crowd could hear as I walked about.

If I were the boss I would like to find
The fellow whose work is the proper kind:
And whenever to me a good thing came
I'd ask to be told the toiler's name,
And I'd go to him and I'd pat his back
And I'd say, "That was perfectly splendid, Jack."

Now a bit of praise isn't much to give,
But it's dear to the hearts of all who live.
And there's never a man on this good old earth
But is glad to be told that he's been of worth,
And a kindly word when the work is fair
Is welcomed and wanted everywhere.

If I were a boss, I am sure I should Say a kindly word whenever I could;
For the man who has given his best by day
Wants a little more than his weekly pay.
He likes to know, with the setting sun
That his boss is pleased with the work he's done.

THE Weather

How do clouds sometimes telegraph the arrival of a warm front? Why are they easier to predict than the arrival of cold fronts?

A warm front arrives over our head before you're usually aware of it. That's because the leading edge of a warm front slants forward at the top. Usually this slant is considerable, extending over a distance of hundreds of miles.

Therefore, when cirrus clouds appear far up in the sky, after a clear day, it may well mean that a warm front is approaching. These ice clouds very often are the first sign in the sky that a warm front is on its way.

In twelve to twenty-four hours, you will probably experience rain. Certainly, the clouds will steadily lower and in twenty-four hours they will be cumulus rain clouds.

When you see a halo around the moon, it may well be the first sign of a warm front.
